

From: Vicki DeBoer <wannadanc@olywa.net>
To: <webmaster@dfw.wa.gov>, <fishpgm@dfw.wa.gov>
Date: Wed, Oct 25, 2000 9:54 AM
Subject: Kudos!!!!!!

An early morning "THANK YOU" for one of the better web sites - on this day when the pursuit of Siliqua patula returns in earnest!

Seldom do I read every page, or click on every link - but I have done just that. As a former teacher of marine biology, I thought you did a wonderful job of explaining transect lines, etc. I remember the early days of my teaching when I had the students doing density studies of sand dollars, in an attempt to give them an idea of what field work could look like! Now, it is as easy as an Internet link!!!!

As a lifetime digger, I remember the early years at Oyehut - well before Ocean Shores was little more than an idea. I am grateful for the management that has allowed this sport to still be available.

As a digital photographer, I found the pictures to be well done.

So - thank you!!!

Now - off to collect my license, tube, waders, head lamp, thermos - oh, before I go, would you please pass my appreciative commentary on to those responsible for these pieces that came together so very well?

Thanks again!

Vicki DeBoer
Olympia, WA